What is

St. Gianna's?

Our family, as the foundational building block of our lives, has the single biggest impact on our well-being. Every possible indicator highlights how strong families lead to a healthier, stronger and more prosperous society. Although mothers and fathers may hold society's greatest role, the challenges, stressors and traumas of life can take a toll. Published data and local surveys conducted by our agency identified various high priority needs of children and families in our community, these include:

- Emergency access to infant food, hygiene and clothing supplies
- Child development and safety classes
- Infant and maternal wellbeing support
- Access to specialized in-home visitation services
- Domestic violence support

St. Gianna's is a comprehensive center of support that accompanies parents from their child's conception until 5 years of age. Gianna's offers a selection of free essential items for infants and toddlers. This includes baby food, formula, bottles, diapers, wipes, baby layettes and clothing. Gianna's also acts as a principal connection point for families in need of other social services. When a parent or guardian is referred to Gianna's, a simple yet comprehensive intake is completed to ascertain their needs. In this way, individuals who may approach us for baby items are immediately able to access other support services. Lastly, St. Gianna's offers classes proven to educate parents on critical topics related to child safety.

This program relies 100% on the support of our community. Without you, the work we do would not be possible. Take the first step today by learning how YOU can support families in need....

Our volunteer family

The St. Gianna's volunteer family is dedicated to building healthy communities. They contribute their time and skills with compassion and empathy.

Volunteers are often the first face a visitor will see when they stop by a mobile diaper distribution or enter a St. Gianna's facility.

Whether sorting and organizing donations or walking alongside families as they shop our boutique floor, St. Gianna's volunteers help us build a foundation of love and hope.

The gift of time and talent

- Join the St. Gianna's volunteer family and assist with stocking the boutique floor, greet clients as they enter a St. Gianna's facility or assist shoppers as they select items from the boutique floor.
- Schedule an employee service day and bring your team to St. Gianna's where they can help with restocking the boutique floor, sorting donations and organizing inventory.
- Assist with a mobile diaper distribution, ensuring families with limited access to transportation receive critical resources.
- Volunteer to organize a community diaper or formula drive.

Mobile Diaper Distributions

St. Gianna's mobile baby pantry launched in early 2023 in response to the transportation barriers that prevent families in crisis from accessing critical resources.

This mobile service has saved area families over $330,000 dollars through the distribution of 1,000,000 diapers, as well as resources such as wipes and diaper cream.

Mobile distribution locations also serve as a point of access for rural families to be connected with additional community support services.

Interviews with seventy low-income mothers of diaper-age children revealed:

- 93% had exhausted their disposable diaper supply at least once.
- 69% had borrowed either diapers, or money to buy diapers, from others.
- 79% reported skipping other necessities in order to buy diapers.

*The Russell Sage Foundation Journal of the Social Sciences

“Although we knew it would be quite a task to pull off this large of a distribution, we felt lucky to have this rare opportunity. It's hard to even describe what we have encountered in the last months as we've met with families at distributions across 9 West Michigan Counties, some waiting in hour-long lines. We have heard so many stories of joy and of struggle. It's been an honor to be able to walk alongside these courageous families.”

-Stephanie Busch, Pregnancy & Parent Program Manager
